Camp Harmony it is a privately owned campground, but not normally open to the public. It is not an RV resort. There is no staffed campground office and their gate is usually locked. When the Georgia Mountaineers are there, we usually have the entire campground to ourselves. There are no campground attendants and payment is on the honor system. There have been some concerns in the past about the electrical hook-ups and low voltage at Camp Harmony. In 2008, they reworked five electrical posts and replaced eleven circuit breakers. Also, when we are there, someone usually shows up early and tests all the electrical posts. If one checks bad, it is flagged not to use. However, if a group is there in the summer time, one can expect low voltage conditions while running the air conditioners. The connections are 30 amps, but with our rally being in October and with all the shade trees, there has been little need for air conditioning. If there is, and low voltage presents a problem, you can always run your generator a little while to cool the coach down at night. The campground charges $12 per day, so if you need a little generator time, you can certainly afford it. If you are real concerned about connecting your coach to their electrical post, just don't do it – dry camp. Their $12 a day price is not much more than other campgrounds without hookups. Also, there are no sewage connections at Camp Harmony -- only electric and water. But, there is a dump station. And, there are rest rooms and showers. The best thing is to come with your holding tanks empty and then dump before you leave.

Directions: From Elberton take Hwy-77 north to Hwy-368. Turn right on Hwy-368 and go 1.6 miles and turn left on Harmony Road. The campground entrance is on the left, right past the church. If coming from Hartwell on Hwy-77, go approximately 1 1/4 miles and turn left onto Harmony Road. On the right side, the name of the road is Thirteen Forks Road, as the name changes when the road crosses Hwy-77. There is a church on the left at the intersection of Hwy-77 and Harmony Road. Go about 2 miles down Harmony Road and the campground is on the right. Slow down or you will miss it. If you do miss it, go straight ahead and turn around in the church parking lot.
