Mice & Rodent Protection

For those of you needing or wanting a way to keep mice and rodents out of your RV, especially the basement area, there may be just a product that meets your needs. It is named Fresh Cab. I have inserted a photo below. It can be purchased at Tractor Supply and maybe some other places. Some may consider it somewhat expensive. But, if it prevents damage by mice and other rodents, it is well worth the cost.

It comes in a small box, 4 x 4 x 4 inches that contains four pouches. The directions state it will last up to 30 days, based on the size enclosure and air tightness of where it is placed. I have found it will last much longer in some areas where I have used it. The four pouches are actually eight double pouches stabled together and they can be separated if so desired. The price is around $15 a box.

Where we live we have always had problems with mice getting into our motorhome basement and also under the bed and dash. I used to set traps and would catch mice all the time. Since I have begun using Fresh Cab, I can find no evidence of mice. I still leave one trap set and the bait has never gone missing and it has never been tripped by a critter.

It is my understanding this product was created by a farmer's wife to prevent mice and other rodents from damaging their expensive farm tractors, especially the wiring and seats in their tractor and combine cabs during the winter off season. Regardless of the reason, it works for me.
